TWO CENTS

GRADUATING CLASS LISTENS TO FINE SERMON BY REV. T. D. REES

Splendid Music was Special Feature of the Services

SOME EXTRACTS FROM SERMON

The baccalaureate sermon in connection with the commencement exercises of the Charleroi high school were delivered in the auditorium of the high school building Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. Incidental to the sermon scripture reading, prayer and congregational singing were features while the selection by Miss Emma Chittier and Warren Kander, "I Will Magnify Thee," and the rendition of the "Festival Te Deum" by the choir were both highly pleasing. The sermon was delivered by Rev. T. D. Rees, pastor of the First Baptist church, who took for his text a portion of the third verse of the fourth chapter of Revelations, "And there was a rainbow about the throne." Rev. Rees said in part:

We stand tonight upon a spot where we are challenged to look into life's futurities. I know there are some people who resent any prospect into the future. Frankly they avow that no one knows anything about it, therefore it should be left severely alone. He who ventures a thought concerning finalities is said to be speaking of that of which he has no knowledge. Leave the clouds, they say, and come down to terra firma. For is not the other world spoken of as the "Great Unknown?" I don't like that name. I prefer to call it "The Great Beyond." Herbert Spencer speaks of God does he not as the "Unknowable." I do not like that name for my God. I prefer to speak of Him as the "Transcendent." And is not progressive human life a continuance grappling with the great unknown. Friends of the graduating class. You hold before me tonight the mirror of my own life. When I left my home for college, I was passing from an irrevocable epoch in my life. Two things remained for me—memory and futurity. Tonight you are saying the farewell. But there will come a time when you will reach forth longing and weary hands toward the life which now you leave. Your soul will at last be straining its vision to catch a faint glimmer of the lights that fringe the harbor bay.

What can we learn from the picture here presented? A rainbow and a throne? A rainbow—a thing of loveliness, a circle of beauty, life's great finality girded and blended in glory. God give us to believe that life for it, and in the end live into it. God-my-God—is not He of the beautiful soul? Who made the whiteness of the snow-drift, the sapphire of the sea, the opal of the iridescent morning sky? Who made the real something so imperfectly reflected in all of art, poetry and song? Are there blossoms this side of the Jordan, and on the other none. Is there

CHARLEROI BOY WITH THE 320TH INFANTRY

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Schwaed and family were in Pittsburgh last week to welcome their son Private Geo. G. Schwaed of Company G, 320th Infantry, who was among the boys in the parade. He surely was glad to be back among his friends and he also inquired about the folks of Charleroi. He went to Camp Sherman where he will be discharged from the service. He expects to be home this week.

AMBULANCE IS CLEARED OF DEBT

Chief Albright this morning made a report on the ambulance, which was purchased about a year ago. The ambulance is now free of debt and is the property of the borough. It is being maintained without cost to the municipality, the revenues derived from trips made outside the borough being sufficient to take care of its up-keep. All trips within the borough limits are made free, a charge being made for any that requires the ambulance going beyond that distance. During the past year the ambulance carried 281 patients of which number 186 were carried during the "flu" epidemic.

WILL HOLD COUNTY C. E. CONVENTION

The thirteenth annual county Christian Endeavor convention will be held in the Presbyterian church, Prosperity, June 19. All societies that are members of the union are asked to send in their annual reports and contributions on or before that date. Plans have been considered for a successful convention. Speakers of exceptional ability have been secured and they will appear at each session of the convention. The program prepared is the most complete survey of Christian Endeavor activities and those interested in young people cannot afford to miss any of the sessions.

Large Class Initiated By Knights of Columbus

The initiatory exercises held by Charleroi Council, Knights of Columbus, on Sunday were the most successful ever held by the local organization and ranks high among similar events in the Pittsburgh district. It was the opinion of those present that it was one of the best classes of initiates and the best exemplification of the degree work that had taken place in the Pittsburgh district in the past ten years.

The candidates assembled at 10:30 o'clock, and attended Mass at 11 o'clock, after which the initiatory exercises took place in the Lyceum. The class numbered 123 members, 69 being from Charleroi, 29 from Donora and 25 from Washington. The local Council put on the second degree, while State Deputy J. P. McDonough of Reading, assisted by the Degree team from Pittsburgh Council No. 2 exemplified the third degree. At the conclusion of the work the Knights adjourned to Turner Hall where the members of the L. C. B. A. under direction of Mrs. McBride and a large corps of able aids, served a banquet, 350 men being seated at the first table. The program as outlined followed, addresses being made by Mr. McDonough, Leo.

BUGGY WRECKED; OCCUPANTS INJURED

Mrs. Cora Clarke, accompanied by her two children, May and Frank Clark and her sister, Mrs. Louis Santee, all of Twilight, met with an accident which might have resulted fatally Saturday evening last while on their way home from Charleroi. They were driving home in a buggy and when passing along Lincoln avenue extension their horse frightened at an automobile. The animal ran away and wrecked the buggy, all of the occupants being thrown out. Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Santee receiving severe cuts on the head, but the children escaped unhurt. It required three stitches in the wound received by Mrs. Clark to close it and four in the one received by Mrs. Santee. The accident happened about 7 o'clock. After receiving medical attention all of the party were taken home.

COMMENCEMENT AT CALIFORNIA NORMAL TO BE NOTEWORTHY

TO ERECT NEW BUILDING FOR ROSCOE LEDGER

Editor Joe T. S. Cowen of the Roscoe Ledger having purchased a very desirable site will in a short time erect thereon a suitable building in which to house his publication business. The Ledger is one of the solid institutions of Roscoe, and this evidence of prosperity shows that it is appreciated by the people of that thriving community.

CHILDREN'S DAY A GREAT SUCCESS

With the house crowded to its capacity and many turned away the children's day services in the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church on Sunday were surely in keeping with the World's Children Day. The flower display in the front of the church was very pleasing, as the various colors blended into a beautiful harmony. The children were wide awake and their songs and recitations were full of vigor. A chorus choir of 25 voices under the direction of John F. Bowman added much to the spirit of the occasion and the Sunday school teachers had their pupils well trained. Many comments were heard of the fine work of the boys' classes, whose exercises were so well planned. Ideas that in the end all powers were in submission to the King of Kings. An impressive pageant by the larger pupils elicited much praise. Mrs. Clifford Robertson, the Sunday school pianist, accompanied the singers and the music with the flowers and children made a program that was thoroughly enjoyed by the larger audience present.

Clyde William Beatty, son of Mr. Clyde William Beatty, died at the home of his parents, Maple creek road, Sunday evening, June 8, at 9 o'clock in the 11th year of his age. Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 p. m. in charge of Rev. Tucker of Black Diamond, with interment in Charleroi cemetery.

A meeting of the Charleroi Post American Legion, will be held Tuesday evening, June 10, 1919 at 8 o'clock, in Trust Company hall. A full attendance is requested, as business of importance will be taken up.

Notice K. of C. All members of Charleroi Council Knights of Columbus, will meet this evening at the Pennsylvania railroad station to take the 7:05 train to Donora, to pay our respects to our late brother, Mr. Steele, who died at the West Penn hospital on Saturday.

Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis To Deliver Address to Graduates

ALUMNI REUNION TO BE NOTABLE

California is anticipating one of the most successful commencement seasons in the history of the Normal school this year. The exercises will be ushered in on Sunday, June 23, and will end with the alumni banquet and dance on the 2nd of July.

The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by Rev. George Darsie, of Washington, son of the late Hugh S. Darsie, a member of the First Board of Trustees of the Normal school. On Monday, June 30, the graduating students of the musical department will be heard in concert. Tuesday will be filled with Class Day exercises, Junior Class play, and in the evening the annual contest between the two literary societies will take place.

The commencement exercises will be held Wednesday, July 2nd, the speaker to address the class being Rev. Dwight Hillis, recently returned from France, and who needs no introduction to the people of this section of the valley.

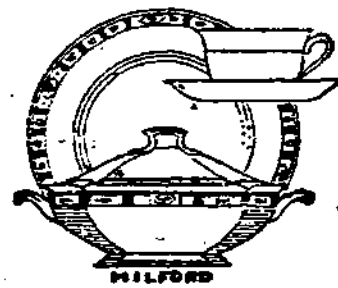

The alumni class reunions will be held on the campus Wednesday afternoon, followed by the business session of the Alumni Association at 4 p. m. and the banquet and dance at 7:30 and 8:30 p. m. respectively.

The Alumni Association of the J. Albert Reed of California, president, has organized booster committees in each district locality as boosters for the reunion. Plans are being made for an attractive day for the alumni, and no effort will be spared to make the day one to be remembered.

William Fred Schenck. William Fred Schenck, one of the pioneer residents of Charleroi, died at the West Penn Hospital, Sunday, June 9, at 6:30 p. m., in the 68th year of his age.

Mr. Schenck was born in West-emburg, Germany, August 16, 1850, and emigrated to America in 1866, locating in Philadelphia, where he learned the baker trade. From Philadelphia he went to San Francisco and after remaining there came east and settled in Butler, where he was married to Anna King. From Butler they moved to Pittsburgh and on the 31st of October, 1891, they moved to Charleroi. Mr. Schenck had purchased a lot here at the time of the sale, at the corner of Sixth street and McKean avenue, where he continued the bakery business until 1910, when he retired. He is survived by his widow, one daughter, Mrs. J. G. Al-station to take the 7:05 train to Donora, to pay our respects to our late brother, Mr. Steele, who died at the West Penn hospital on Saturday.

"MOONSHINE" AT HOME

During these last weeks correspondents opposed to prohibition have been asking a good many questions. The chief of these had to do with methods of bringing about the repeal or preventing the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment. In response it has been stated that reliance on legal measures is a waste of time because, even if the constitutions of fourteen states do require that a constitutional amendment be submitted to a referendum, the supreme court of the United States "will not throw out an amendment which appears to be supported by forty-five states out of forty-eight." What the anti-prohibitionists will have to do, it is added, is to "move public opinion to such an extent that persons opposed to prohibition will be elected to Congress and to the State Legislatures." This answer, which appears to state the case correctly, tends to show that the anti-prohibitionists have a long and serious undertaking ahead of them.

An equally definite and convincing reply to another question would seem to be desirable. What about the legality under the eighteenth amendment of home manufacture of intoxicants for strictly private use? Many correspondents have of late sought recipes for home brews with a view to becoming their own providers in the "dry" times to come. A correspondent of the New York Sun, for example, urgently requests instruction in methods of manufacturing ale for his own use. "Do you know," he asks, "and will you publish a recipe for making home brewed ale? If you have none at hand, perhaps the publication of my inquiry will bring one from some of your numerous readers." The Sun merely publishes this request without comment, but this correspondent will undoubtedly receive a definite answer, privately if not publicly, for recipes for home manufacture of intoxicants are now being widely discussed in private conversation as they are handed from neighbor to neighbor.

Moonshining or the sale of private manufactures is a punishable offense under the Federal law, but what about manufactures not for sale and for private use only? Will this be a punishable offense under the eighteenth amendment? It appears to be such an offense under the laws of some of the prohibition states, for a Georgia writer recently complained that in his commonwealth it is a statutory crime "even for an old lady to make a little blackberry wine for home use in emergencies." If Federal law under the eighteenth amendment shall also prohibit home manufacture for home use, there will have to be a very extensive system of official espionage, and there are going to be many arrests of respectable citizens. For both observation and report tends to show widespread preparation for the manufacture of intoxicants in the home for private use.

Castro Made Sure of Salary.

President Elvert will draw his salary every month, like President Wilson. President Poincaré is paid every three months. Castro, who was president of Venezuela from 1899 to 1905, used to make the treasury pay him daily. When elected his salary was fixed at $144,000 a year, payable monthly. On drawing his first month's pay Castro told the minister of finance that henceforth he must send him $400 in gold every morning, "that being the best way to make sure of my salary in this revolution-ridden land." During the nine years of his presidency exchange funds often ran low, but the autocrat's daily wage was always forthcoming as he warned each successive minister of finance that failure to provide it would mean summary dismissal.

Spare the Garter Snake.

It is said that in Klamath Falls, Ore., it is an offense to kill a garter snake, and that an easterner who killed one of these snakes was fined $5 by a Klamath Falls magistrate. The garter snake is harmless and may be useful, but persons unaccustomed to having snakes around become nervous when they run across so harmless a reptile as the garter snake, and the first thought in their minds is to put the snake out of business.

KNOW NOTHING ABOUT TOYS

Little Ones of Palestine Grew Up Without Seeing a Doll Until Armenians Brought Some.

Ever since the outbreak of the war the children of Palestine have been without toys, and a whole generation is growing up that has not even "toyed" a doll. The miseries that have all but overwhelmed the city of Jerusalem have robbed even the boys of any inclination to play, except now and then a pathetic imitation of the doll as indulged in by the British "Tommy" of General Allenby's fighting army. So writes Miss Lily Oppenheim, a New York girl, who is the secretary of the American Zionists' official unit which is now operating in Palestine.

Miss Oppenheim was charged with the task of distributing a contribution of toys which accompanied one of the clothes shipments sent recently to the Holy Land by the Palestine supplies department of the Zionist organization of America. The toys were distributed to the kindergartens, the schools, the orphanages and to the two children's hospitals in Jerusalem and Jaffa.

Miss Oppenheim personally took some of the toys to the girls' orphanage and she describes the scene that transpired. "We first explained the toys to Mrs. S—the head of the orphanage and to her assistant. Mrs. S—then assembled the children in one room and told them to cover their eyes as she had a surprise for them."

"Then she and her assistant brought in a few toys at a time and placed them on a table. The children's patience could not last until all the toys were brought in but when, through the corners of their eyes, they saw a few of the toys they were almost beside themselves with joy."

"One little mix of six, whose patience had got out of bounds, asked, very pertinently: 'But when do we get them?' The children in one hospital in Jerusalem and Tel Aviv were also made happy by this fine donation of toys."

QUEER MYTH ABOUT WILSON

Belief in Austria That President of the United States Really Crown Prince Rudolph.

According to the Vienna Journal, a serious newspaper, the rural population of large districts of the provinces of Lower Austria and Styria never believed in the death of Crown Prince Rudolph of Austria, who was assassinated in the castle of Mayerling, near Baden, together with Countess Veera in 1889.

"The people refused to accept this official statement, and their suspicion was nourished at the time by the fact that the coffin of the crown prince at the funeral was extremely small, while the crown prince himself was a powerful man."

The story went that the crown prince had really not been murdered or all but that he had fled across the big pond.

Ever since the war there is a growing belief among the rural population that the crown prince, who, as will be remembered, was addicted to scientific researches, is identical with Prof. Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States of America.

The remarkable thing is that there is an evident optimism as the future of Austria connected with the legend, for the people say it is plain that Wilson being Crown Prince Rudolph, will not let his beloved Austria perish.

Cotton Gin for Zululand.

The first cotton-ginning plant in Zululand, writes Vice Consul Charles J. Pizar from Cape Town, recently commenced operations at Amatitla, after almost a year's preparatory work. The capacity of the American gin installed is between 1,500 and 1,600 pounds of lint for an eight-hour day, which represents 2½ tons of seed cotton. The installation of this ginning plant is looked upon as one of far-reaching importance for the cotton growers in Zululand, and it is believed that cotton growing there, which has been receiving special attention from government experts, will undergo a very rapid development in the near future.

As a refuge from inclement weather California has long been the winter playground for thousands, but it is only recently that cattle and sheep have joined the tourist ranks according to Popular Mechanics magazine. Naturally this winter resorting of common range stock is not specially attractive, but is inspired by good business motives. California pastures afford a more economical winter feed, and the sheep go through the lambing season with far less loss. With all the devices of tents and lambing wagons and weather often takes half the increase in lambs. No change of climate really an economic measure, with the recent prices for early lambs.

Guardian of the Light.

Miss Winifred Holt is well named the angel of the blind. She is head of the Lighthouse, a home for the blind in New York city, where those who cannot see are taught useful work. Several years ago she went to France to work for the benefit of the men blinded in the war. She established the Phare, French for "lighthouse," similar to the New York home in purpose, and has taught over three hundred men to support themselves without sight. For some time she worked in the first trenches of the Somme.

The Only Shade Made With a Ventilator

Self-Hanging
Vudor
Ventilating Porch Shades

To get real, continuous, every-day, all Summer long pleasure from your porch, it must be protected from the sun. This is evident to all of us—but simply protection from the sun does not make your porch habitable—far from it. You must have ventilation.

The New Patented VUDOR Ventilating Shade

permits the hot air to escape from the top of the porch through a wide open VENTILATOR woven in the shade itself at the extreme top, where the sun cannot shine in upon you. This Vudor woven-in-the-shade Ventilator automatically clears the porch of impure hot air and permits a continuous, gentle circulation of air without drafts.

The New VUDOR Self-Hanging Device
enables you to hang a shade in five minutes—not a screw used. The old way of attaching a shade to the porch with screws took twenty minutes or more. With the new Self-Hanging way you can unhook the shade in the Fall—if you wish—and rehang it in the Spring in less than two minutes and this doubles the life of the Shade.

Let us demonstrate the new VUDORS for you.

PITT GIRLS MAKE AN UNUSUAL RECORD

The University of Pittsburgh of Girls have received many messages of congratulations as a result of the unusual record achieved by Pitt girls at a recent Y. W. C. A. Physical Education Conference held in New York. Mary Stokes, a member of the Junior class of the physical education department, won first place among representatives of every state in the Union when she scored 18 1-2 out of a possible 20 points for general physical development and Miss Wehmeier of the Pitt senior class took second place with 18 1-4 points. All the Pitt girls who entered the tests qualified as summer camp recreational directors and many of them have already received definite assignments.

Dr. Agnes Burns Ferguson, National Director of the Y. W. C. A. camp program says Miss Stokes' record is probably the highest ever scored before a similar Y. W. C. A. Conference. As a result of their records Miss Stokes and Miss Wehmeier have been assigned by Dr. Ferguson to important western camps for the summer.

OPENING BASE BALL GAME NEXT WEEK

Arch Osborne has had considerable difficulty in getting his ball team started this season, but if nothing further happens he hopes to have it in action on the evening of June 19, at which time the Pittsburgh Athletics will be the attraction. On Saturday the 21st the Beltzhoover team will be here and on the 28th the Boston-McKeesport team.

While the locals have not been together much this season the players have been getting practice with other teams. On Saturday last Guder and Urban helped Monongahela defeat the Pittsburgh Athletics in a close game; Keefe at Star Junction shut out Cokeburg with one hit, while Phillips with Fayette City at Cumberland played a fine game for the visitors. Johnny Dawson also played in the limelight with Aluminium at New Kensington, when that team defeated Allegheny Steel by a score of 8 to 2. In the ninth inning with two on Dawson smacked the ball for what ordinarily would have been a "home" although he had to be content with credit for a single. Altogether it looks as if the locals would have a strong combination this season.

FIND TRUE BILLS AGAINST PROMOTERS

The Fayette county grand jury on Friday last returned indictments against E. W. Hoffman and Steve Simon, of New Geneva, alleged promoters of the Atlantic Coal company. The men were charged with false pretense, having been seven counts against Hoffman three counts against Simon and three also against both men. They are being prosecuted by 15 foreigners to whom they are alleged to have sold stock in the company under false pretense. The information set forth that the alleged promoters represented the Atlantic Coal company with being a Pennsylvania corporation owning 660 acres of coal in Springhill township, Fayette County; that it does not own the acreage named and is incorporated in the state of Delaware. The information continues that the stock was sold by the alleged promoters with the understanding that the purchasers could have their money back at any time if they were not satisfied with the investment. The trial is set for Wednesday.

CENTENARY FUND IS ALMOST RAISED

Methodist Centenary campaigners in America are within almost $100,000 of their goal of $105,000,000, according to the official report which has been received by Dr. Appleton Bash, of Pittsburgh, executive secretary of the Missionary Centenary in the Pittsburgh area. The latest figures place the total of pledges at $104,898,000. With a number of churches yet to report it is hoped to have the fund completed before the Centenary celebration which will be held in Columbus, Ohio, the week of the 20th of June.

INCOME TAXES ARE PAYABLE JUNE 15

To extend to taxpayers the privilege of paying their income and profit taxes by installments the government borrowed funds on short term notes or certificates of indebtedness, and these are issued in series maturing on dates when tax installments are due, according to announcement made on Monday by United States Commissioner Daniel C. Roper.

According to a Treasury decision taxpayers and collectors are notified that June 15, 1919, is the date named for payment of the second installment of incomes and war profits and excess taxes based on returns for 1918, and for payment of these second installment of other taxes, the first installment of which was due March 15. As June 15 falls on Sunday payments have been extended to Monday, June 16, without penalty.

FIGHTING CHAPLAIN IS GIVEN AUTOMOBILE

A score of more of Chaplain Chas. Schall's personal friends in Greensburg presented him with an automobile on Monday. The Chaplain served with the Tenth Pennsylvania for years and when the regiment was mustered into the service of the United States the Chaplain was retained. He went to France with the regiment and was later attached to Division headquarters.

WOOL IS SELLING AT A HIGH PRICE

Wool dealers in the southern section of Washington county report that nearly 50 per cent of the wool in the middle and southern section of the county has been sold, the generally prevailing consideration being 70 cents per pound.

WASHINGTON TO WELCOME ITS RETURNED SOLDIER

Washington will have a reception and welcome home celebration for its returned soldiers on the 17th of July. The committee in charge of the arrangements are now busily engaged in making up the program for the day.

Don't Meet Them Often.
"Is it always the husband's fault?" asks a magazine advertisement. Well, of course, there are some things with which husband never had anything to do. But they are rare.—Kansas City Star.

If Speed Is Wanted.
Some girls get their ruddy cheeks by daily calisthenics, others by daily cosmetics. Both ways are satisfactory for obtaining results but you got to hand it to the latter for speed.

Cant and Hypocrisy.
Cant is the voluntary over-charging or prolongation of a real sentiment; hypocrisy is the setting up pretense to a feeling you never had, and have no wish for.—Hazlitt.

Cork Substitute.
A good substitute for cork is obtained from certain fungi, which are dried and ground, mixed with cement and consolidated by pressure.

Hats as Bedroom Slippers.
Old felt hats which are too far gone to be worked over into hats again are now utilized for bedroom slippers.

DONORA FOREIGNER COMMITTS SUICIDE

Despondent because he had been ill and out of work, Matek Dodnak of Donora, aged 35 years and married, hanged himself some time last Friday night under the porch of his home. His lifeless body was found the next morning. It is presumed he slipped out some time during the night and committed the deed.
